The main body of the page is a large, low-resolution grid representing a degree map. The grid is composed of many small, colored squares. The colors used include red, yellow, green, and blue. The grid is organized into two main horizontal sections, corresponding to the 1st and 2nd semesters. The 1st semester section is on the left, and the 2nd semester section is on the right. The grid is mostly empty, with only a few scattered colored cells, suggesting that the specific course requirements are not clearly visible due to the low resolution.
