

Information found on page 15 of the 2020-2021 the Undergraduate catalog regarding conditional admission is incorrect. Correct information is below:

Conditional Admission

Conditionally admitted students will be granted unconditional admission status upon completion of 24 semester credit hours at Troy University with an overall 2.00 GPA. Credits earned by a conditionally admitted student are recorded on the permanent record of the student and will apply, if applicable, toward a regular undergraduate degree program. Any conditional student who fails to attain a 2.00 GPA upon completion of 24 hours attempted at Troy University will be dropped from the program. However, a conditionally admitted student earning a 0.00 GPA on the first six hours will be dropped from the program.
